There was a big crowd to greet the Honolulu steamer which brought Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane into port. Mrs. Macfarlane is so browned by the island sun that one scarcely recognizes Polly Dunn that was in the olive-skinned Mrs. Macfarlane. She is with her sister, Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton, and just as soon as she is rested up a bit, she will be made the motif of several home-greeting affairs.—News Letter.

Congressman Gillett of New York and wife, who arrived yesterday on the transport Thomas en route to Manila, were entertained during the day by Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson, Hon. Alexander Young and Mr. A. A. Young. During the forenoon they were taken for an automobile ride about town and lunched at the Alexander Young Hotel. Miss Bertha Young also being of the party. Our announcement last week that the President is to appoint Col. Samuel M. Mills, Artillery Corps, to succeed Gen. J. P. Story as Chief of Artillery, when the latter retires because of age, August 25, was the first knowledge artillery officers generally had that a selection for this important position had been definitely made. There were many candidates, and among them Lieutenant colonels were prominently mentioned. Judge Advocate General Davis, of the army, however, held that the selection must, under the law, be limited to colonels of artillery. Colonel Mills is held in high esteem by the War Department and it is believed that his appointment will meet with general approval from the Artillery Corps.—Army and Navy Journal.

Col. Mills was at one time in command of Camp McKinley, Honolulu.

waistbands are practically the same as those that obtained at the beginning of winter. The sleeves are now made mostly at half-length, rather full at the shoulder and pleated or "Bouillone" throughout, with two or three flounces of sabot at the elbow, under a band forming a jarretiere.

Of an officer aboard the U. S. battleship Ohio, now in port, the Army and Navy Journal says: "The wedding of Miss Alice Brigham and Lieut. Clarence S. Kempff, U. S. N., now attached to the Ohio, took place at Trinity Church, San Francisco, on Wednesday, March 14, and owing to a recent death in the bride's family was a very simple but very beautiful affair. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Katherine Brigham, while Midshipman Martin M. Metcalf acted as best man. The ushers were Lieut. S. M. Robinson and Midshipman Abram Claude, U. S. N. The bride's gown was of heavy ivory satin and rare old lace, while her attendant wore a gown of white chiffon. The ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. Bishop Nichols of the Episcopal Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Frederick Clappett, rector of Trinity Church. After the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, the guests being limited to the relatives and most intimate friends of the contracting parties. Lieut.

and Mrs. Kempff will enjoy only a short wedding trip, as the groom sails on his ship, the Ohio, the latter part of the month for the Orient. Mrs. Kempff will join him in the Far East in the near future. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Brigham and the late Dr. C. E. Brigham, one of the most prominent of San Francisco physicians during his life time. Lieutenant Kempff is a son of Rear Admiral Louis Kempff, U. S. N.

The PIANOLA'S

most Important feature

An instrument which not only enables you to play the piano, but to play it as a musician plays it—something that no other piano-player ever attempts.

"The Pianola is Perfection."

I. J. PADEREWSKI.

There is a vast difference between simply playing the piano and playing it like Paderewski.

This difference is not merely a matter of technique. If it were, the Pianola would play better than Paderewski, for its technique is practically perfect.

It is the interpretative emotion with which Paderewski plays, coupled with his superb technique, which distinguishes his playing from that of the ordinary pianist. And this distinction, which is so great that Paderewski's fame will be alive a hundred years from now, represents precisely the difference between the Pianola type of instrument as it has been known and the new Pianola with the Metrostyle.

The Metrostyle deals with interpretation. It enables everyone to play with the expression and effect of the best pianists. The most famous musicians in the world have contributed to its effectiveness, and yet it makes the Pianola easier to play. It does not make "ordinary pianists" of those who use it, but pianists of the most exceptional ability.

It is hardly conceivable that anyone would deliberately choose to play the piano like the average amateur when he might play like Paderewski or Bauer, or Carreno or Hofmann, by paying just a little more. Yet this is just exactly what one does who buys any other piano-player than the Pianola with the Metrostyle.

The Metrostyle Pianola, $250.

May be purchased on easy monthly payments if desired.
